Dear Student:

Welcome and congratulations on choosing Rutgers–Camden to help you reach your academic and professional goals. Rutgers University is full of proud traditions dating back to its founding in 1766, as well as new services and growing opportunities. All of these traditions, staff and faculty, services and resources are only valuable and useful if you seek them out and use them to the fullest extent available.

As you begin your career at Rutgers–Camden my advice to you is to explore, learn, try new things, meet new people. Take on at least one new thing each month — whether it be attending an event on a topic that is new, meeting with a professor during office hours, having lunch with a new classmate, joining a fitness class, attending an organizational meeting, or going to an office for services — like the Learning Center, Career Center, Health Services, Academic Advising, Athletics, Financial Aid, EOF, or the Registrar. Most of all, have fun and enjoy.

This handbook is designed to give you information about academic programs and campus services to get you started on your journey toward a graduate degree and beyond. There are links to important websites, important dates to remember, information about processes and policies that you will need to know, and websites and phone numbers to access further information about everything.

I hope that you will take full advantage of everything that the campus and the university have to offer and will get involved, make new friends for life, use valuable services and resources on campus, challenge yourself, learn and grow throughout your time at Rutgers–Camden.

Sincerely,

Mary Beth Daisey
Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

The Graduate School–Camden offers master's degree programs in biology, business and science, chemistry, childhood studies, computational and integrative biology, computer science, creative writing, criminal justice, English and media studies, history, liberal studies, mathematical sciences, psychology, public administration, public affairs, teacher education, teaching Science, and teaching Spanish. The Graduate School–Camden also offers a certificate program in science and technology and PhD programs in childhood studies, computational and integrative biology, and public affairs. The School of Business–Camden offers the master of business administration degree, the professional master of business administration degree (PMBA), and the professional master of accountancy degree (PMAc). The School of Nursing-Camden offers a doctor of nursing practice in two tracks: adult gerontology primary care nurse practitioner and family nurse practitioner, as well as a post-master's option for nurse practitioners holding a master of science in nursing degree. The School of Nursing-Camden offers post-baccalaureate certificates in wound ostomy continence and school nursing. Jointly with the School of Business-Camden, the School of Nursing-Camden offers a doctor of nursing practice/master of business administration (D.N.P./M.B.A.) degree in executive nursing leadership.

For information about the specific degree requirements, academic policies, and procedures, please refer to the online Graduate Catalog at: http://catalogs.rutgers.edu/generated/cam-grad_current/index.html. In an effort to support environmentally friendly “go green” initiatives, Rutgers University no longer prints a graduate catalog. If you have any questions about the graduate catalog and what is expected of you as a graduate student, please contact your graduate program director.

Below is a sample course as it appears in the online schedule of classes with indicators for each area.
Non-degree students (non-matriculated)
Non-degree status is designed for students who wish to pursue courses without enrolling in the degree program. A maximum of 12 credits may be earned as a non-degree student.

Change of Status (non-matriculated to matriculated)
Students currently registered in the Graduate School at Rutgers-Camden as non-matriculated students who wish to change their status to matriculated must complete a Change of Status form and submit it to their Graduate Program Director for approval. Program Directors will then forward the completed form to the Graduate School Office for approval. The application form for Change of Status can be found online at: http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/forms/.

Accelerated Degree and Dual-Degree Programs
Students enrolled in the Camden College of Arts and Sciences or in University College–Camden may apply during their junior year to enter a dual-degree program in the following programs: B.A./M.A. in Childhood Studies, Criminal Justice, English, History, Liberal Studies and Psychology; B.A./M.S. in Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Computational & Integrative Biology and Mathematical Science; B.A./M.P.A. in Economics, Political Science, and Urban Studies; BA/MAT in Teaching Spanish or Teacher Education; and B.S./M.S. in Computer Science. Interested undergraduates who intend to pursue a master’s degree in the Graduate School–Camden must be approved for entry into the accelerated degree program by the Director of the Graduate Program in which they wish to study. More information may be found here: https://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/prospective-students/accelerated-degree-program/

Re-enrollment
Students who do not continuously register for courses or matriculation continued will need to be approved for re-enrollment when they wish to begin their studies again. Students who are approved for re-enrollment will be retroactively registered for Matriculation Continued status in the semester prior to their re-enrollment. Please note that a fee is associated with the Matriculation Continued status, and you will be issued a bill by the Office of the Bursar. The application form for Re-Enrollment can be found online at: http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/forms/. This form must be taken to the appropriate graduate director and the Associate Dean for the Graduate School for approval.

Program transfer
Students wishing to transfer programs within the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences or the School of Business–Camden must complete an Application for Program Transfer form, which will need to be approved by the graduate director of the current program, the graduate director of the desired graduate program, and the Associate Dean of the Graduate School. The application form for Program Transfer can be found online at: http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/forms/.

Transferring Course Credit
Graduate courses taken in previous graduate programs may be considered for transfer credit. No more than one third of the total degree credits required at Rutgers-Camden can be from transfer and/or transient course credit. An application for transfer of credit form must be completed by the student and submitted, along with an official transcript showing the courses for which credit is requested, to the Graduate Program Director. After the Graduate Program Director endorses the application, the form and the transcript will be forwarded for review to the Office of the Graduate School-Camden. Once approved, the documents are sent to the Office of the Registrar for processing. The application form for Transfer of Credit can be found online at: http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/forms/.
Status and Enrollment

Transient Credit Approval
Graduate students at Rutgers-Camden are expected to take all their courses at Rutgers-Camden, unless they receive permission in advance to take a course at another institution or another school with the Rutgers University system. Exceptions may be granted if the student needs a course that will not be offered prior to their graduation date. Lower tuition, scheduling convenience, or traveling distance are not sufficient cause for taking courses elsewhere. Transient credit approval will not be granted retroactively. If students are taking the transient course at a school outside the Rutgers system, they must have the registrar of the transient school send an official transcript directly to the Graduate School office and the Graduate Program Director upon completion of the work. For students taking a course at another Rutgers campus, this step is not necessary. No more than one-third of the total degree credits required at Rutgers-Camden can be from transfer and/or transient course credit combined. The application form for Permission for Transient Work can be found online at: http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/forms/.

Pass/No Credit Courses
With permission from the appropriate Graduate Program Director, and subject to the availability of space, a student may take any graduate course on a Pass/No-Credit basis. This decision must be made when the student registers for the course. Courses taken on this basis are graded Pass or No Credit. A Pass grade earns degree credit and is equivalent to an A, B, or C. A No-Credit grade is equivalent to a D or F. In either instance, the cumulative grade-point average is not affected.

Undergraduate Courses/G-Prefix Approvals
Graduate School of Arts and Sciences students may complete a maximum of two 300 or 400 level undergraduate courses for graduate credit, with the permission of the course instructor, graduate program director and Associate Dean of the Graduate School. A Graduate Student G-Prefix Approval form must be completed and approved prior to the start of the course. A Accelerated Degree G-Prefix Approval form is used by undergraduates in the accelerated degree programs to obtain undergraduate credits from graduate courses. The application forms for G-Prefix Approval can be found online at: http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/forms/.

Matriculation Continued
Enrollment in matriculation continued is for students who wish to have continuous registration while they work on a research project or thesis. Please note that students must be enrolled their final semester. There is a fee for this registration and the Bursar’s Office will send a bill.

Summer Sessions
The Rutgers-Camden Summer Session offers over three hundred day, evening, and online courses in four-to-six-week segments including a wide variety of graduate courses. For more information, please refer to the Summer Session webpage at: http://summer.camden.rutgers.edu/

Auditing Courses
With permission from the course instructor, and subject to the availability of space, full-time students of the school may audit courses without registration. It is understood that no academic credit is earned in this manner. No official record of audited courses is kept.
Incomplete Grades

Students whose work is incomplete at the end of the semester may be assigned a regular grade or, at the discretion of the instructor if there is reason to believe that an extension of time is warranted, a grade of IN. Incomplete work may be made up, and a change of grade may be authorized by the instructor, within 12 months from the time the incomplete was assigned. Students with two or more incompletes are not permitted to register for additional courses without permission of the graduate director. In exceptional cases, where more than one year is required, the student, in conjunction with the instructor, must complete the Graduate Incomplete Grade Extension Form, which must be approved by the program director and the dean. The Incomplete Grade Extension Form can be found online at http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/forms/.
Funding and Finances

Scholarships and Assistantships
The graduate school offers competitive scholarships to new and returning students. These are determined by the department. In addition, some programs offer graduate or teaching assistantships. No separate application is necessary for either award type. Information may be found online at: https://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/current-students/scholarships-assistantships/

Conference Travel Grants
Limited grants are available from the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School-Camden to support graduate student travel to conferences for presentations. The maximum amount available is $500. Application must be made prior to conference travel. The application form for Graduate Student Conference Travel Grants can be found online at: http://research.camden.rutgers.edu/grants/graduate/

Research Grants
Limited grants are available from the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School-Camden to support graduate student research expenses. The maximum amount available is $500. The application form for Graduate Student Research Grants can be found online at: http://research.camden.rutgers.edu/grants/graduate/

External Funding
Office of Sponsored Research
Graduate Students are always searching for ways to finance their scholarship for assistance please contact Camie Morrison, Director of Sponsored Research cammor@camden.rutgers.edu (856) 225-2949 http://www.camden.rutgers.edu/research/office-sponsored-research

The Office of Sponsored Research:
- Aids in the development and structuring of research proposals as well as the final review and editing prior to submission
- Provides regular training opportunities in a range of funding-related subjects such as proposal writing, funding databases, time management, etc
- Informs researchers as to the resources and offices available at Rutgers University such as the Office of Research Alliances, the Rutgers Data Repository, the Office of Technology Transfer, and more;
- Maintains an information hub containing templates, checklists, forms, “how to” guidance, internal opportunities, and other materials for faculty, staff, and students interested in research funding.

Academic and Professional Standards

Student Responsibilities
- Conduct academic pursuits in an ethical manner and develop professionally
- Uphold Code of Student Conduct
- Pursue opportunities that advance career as a graduate student and beyond
- Take Ownership of academic progress
  - devote significant and productive time towards degree completion
  - be knowledgeable about degree requirements through regular discussions with adviser
  - communicate career goals and concerns with academic progress early
  - initiate communication with adviser
- Respect the responsibilities of the adviser
- Maintain open communication
- Allow sufficient time for adviser to provide feedback in advance of deadlines
- Maintain professionalism at all times
Roles within Graduate Advising

Communication and graduate advising
Regular and clear communication is essential to good graduate advising. It is recommended that as much communication as possible occur in person or over the phone enhance clarity, reduce ambiguity and misunderstanding, and to resolve conflict. Written communication, e.g. via mail and e-mail, is appropriate, especially to document situations and potentially contentious issues. Problems that arise should be addressed immediately and clearly so that both parties can work to remedy issues in an expedient manner. Graduate students and advisers should recognize that social media can blur the line between professional and personal lives and should be used only if deemed appropriate by both parties.

Responsibilities of the Graduate Adviser

Conduct advising in an ethical manner, including when recruiting advisees
- Communicate clear intentions, expectations, and requirements to potential and current advisees, including how long the adviser expects to stay in his or her current position and the amount of funding support available to advisees
- Address problems immediately so both parties can remedy issues expediently
- Maintain communication and interact with graduate students in a professional manner
- Communicate clear expectations for time to degree completion and publication expectations
- Provide periodic and regular evaluations of progress toward degree
- Provide timely written feedback on advisee’s professional writing (article drafts, dissertation chapter drafts, etc.)
- Give students appropriate credit for their work, e.g. as reflected in author strings in journal articles or books

Aid in preparing students to be the best professional they can be
- Initiate conversations about academic progress and stay current about degree requirements and procedures
- Initiate conversations with advisee about career goals
- Support traditional and non-traditional career goals
- Help graduate students develop professional skills that will make them competitive for employment in their given field

Encourage students to take part in activities that will enrich their academic development, e.g. by participating in professional conferences and other networking activities

Respect advisees’ academic and non-academic commitments and responsibilities
- Provide prompt and honest feedback on student’s work
- Allow reasonable time for students to prepare requested materials
- Do not require that a student continue to provide a service (e.g. teaching, laboratory management, mentoring of other students, etc.) under terms that can hinder a student’s degree completion
Masters
Candidates for the master of arts (M.A.), master of arts in teaching (M.A.T) master of fine arts (M.F.A.), master of business and science (M.B.S.), master of public administration (M.P.A.), master of science (M.S.), and master of science teaching (M.S.T.) degrees must satisfy the requirements of both the Graduate School–Camden and those of the program in which they are enrolled. The requirements of the Graduate School–Camden are as follows:

- A minimum of 30 credits of successful graduate study must be completed (a minimum of 42 credits of successful graduate study must be completed for the M.P.A. degree and a minimum of 39 credits of successful graduate study must be complete for the M.F.A. degree).
- The candidate must successfully complete a final comprehensive examination in the student's field of concentration, if applicable.
- A writing requirement must be satisfied by either a master's thesis or demonstration to the faculty of ability to write a creditable expository or critical essay. This may be fulfilled either as part of a regular course or seminar or in a special assignment designed for such purposes.
- Two-thirds of the student's degree program in graduate-level coursework must be completed under the jurisdiction of the Graduate School–Camden.
- No more than one-third of a student's program may consist of transferred or transient graduate, graded coursework.
- No more than three courses (typically 9 credits) with a grade of C or C+ are allowed in all courses taken at the Graduate School–Camden. Some programs allow fewer than 9 credits with a grade of C or C+.
- No more than two courses (typically 6 credits) of advanced Rutgers undergraduate coursework (numbered 300 or 400) approved by the graduate program may be taken for graduate credit.
- No undergraduate transfer credit will be accepted from any outside college or university.

Additional requirements for specific programs are noted in the Programs, Faculty, and Courses in the online catalog (https://www.rutgers.edu/academics/catalogs).

All programs of study are subject to review by the Dean of the Graduate School–Camden and the approval of the candidate's program faculty.
Degree Requirements, Doctor of Philosophy, GSC

Doctor of Philosophy
The degree of doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.) is conferred in recognition of two accomplishments: accomplishment in a field of study and distinguished critical or creative achievement within a special area of the general field, typically taking the form of a doctoral dissertation. Sixty credits are required for the Ph.D. degree, of which at least 9 credits must be devoted to research (consult the requirements for specific programs, as some require more credits). Doctoral programs normally are arranged in two phases. The preliminary phase, which generally involves formal courses of study, is completed when the student passes the qualifying examination. Official candidacy to the doctoral degree is conferred after successfully completing the qualifying examination and having the dissertation committee approve a formally submitted dissertation proposal. In the second phase, the student usually pursues research courses and writes his or her dissertation. This phase concludes when the dissertation is accepted and the defense of it is approved. Between admission to the Graduate School–Camden and the conferral of the Ph.D. degree, the student must:

- satisfy the course and other preliminary requirements of the particular graduate program in which the student is enrolled;
- make satisfactory progress toward completion;
- assemble a dissertation committee of no fewer than three members, subject to approval by the graduate program committee;
- pass the qualifying examination, and
- successfully defend the dissertation as determined by the dissertation committee.

In addition, coursework must adhere to the following guidelines:

- Two-thirds of the student's degree program in graduate-level coursework must be completed under the jurisdiction of the Graduate School–Camden.
- No more than one-third of a student's program may consist of transferred and transient graduate, graded coursework.
- No more than three courses (typically 9 credits) with a grade of C or C+ are allowed in all courses taken at the Graduate School–Camden. Some programs allow fewer than 9 credits with a grade of C or C+.
- No more than two courses (typically 6 credits) of advanced Rutgers undergraduate coursework (numbered 300 or 400) approved by the graduate program may be taken for graduate credit.
- No undergraduate transfer credit will be accepted from any outside college or university.
Procedure for Awarding Certificates and Degrees

Students have three graduation cycles to complete their degree: October, January, and May. Commencement takes place each May for all academic year graduates. Students must complete all degree requirements in order to be certified for graduation and participate in commencement.

Graduation Certification

- All graduation information is available on our website, http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/graduation/.
- All graduation deadlines are listed at http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/graduation/
- Schedule and Requirements for Awarding Degrees: Please see Graduation Checklist (available at http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/graduation/)

Graduation applications have two main components:

1. Online Diploma Application: This form tells the University you plan to complete your studies. If you miss this deadline you will have to wait for the next graduation cycle. Please apply if there is any chance that you will graduate.

2. Application for Admission to Candidacy for Degree: This form lists all of your graduate coursework and requires approvals for your thesis, dissertation, capstone, or writing requirement. Your graduate director must sign this form before it is turned into the Dean’s Office. An application for admission to candidacy for degree form will not be accepted for students who have not completed the online diploma application by the deadline.

Master’s Thesis and Doctoral Dissertation Preparation

- All style guidelines outlined in the Capstone and Thesis Style Guide and the Dissertation Style Guide should be followed (available at http://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/graduation/)

- Final approved thesis/dissertation must be uploaded to the Rutgers ETD site by the deadline. Failure to comply with style guide will delay and/or prohibit your certification for graduation.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is a hallmark of higher education. It means that any work submitted by an individual is that student’s own work and that work informed by the efforts of others gives appropriate credit to them.

There are several possible violations of academic integrity. The descriptions below are excerpted directly from the Policy on Academic Integrity for Undergraduate and Graduate Students, which can be found at the website below along with an explanation of the consequences of violating this policy http://deanofstudents.camden.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity. Academic integrity is taken very seriously by our faculty and administration, students should be certain not to violate this policy; doing so can have serious consequences. If you are unsure, always ask your professors or the reference librarians, or see the Learning Center staff before submitting rough or final drafts.

A. Cheating — Is the use of inappropriate and unacknowledged materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise. Assistance from other people is restricted or forbidden unless explicitly authorized by the instructor for particular assignments or similarly, students must not request others (including commercial term paper companies) to conduct research or prepare any work for them or use work or research prepared by others.

B. Fabrication — Is the falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise. "Invented" information may not be used in any laboratory experiment or other academic exercise without authorization from the instructor. The student must also acknowledge reliance upon the actual source from which cited information was obtained.

C. Facilitating Academic Dishonesty — Students who knowingly or negligently allow their work to be used by other students or who otherwise aid others in academic dishonesty are violating academic integrity. Such students are as guilty of intellectual dishonesty as the student who receives the material even though they may not themselves benefit academically from that dishonesty.

D. Plagiarism — Is the representation of the words or ideas of another person or source as one’s own in any academic exercise. To avoid plagiarism, every direct quotation must be identified by quotation marks or by appropriate indentation and must be properly cited in the text or in a footnote. Acknowledgment is also required when material from another source stored in print, electronic, or other medium is paraphrased or summarized in whole or in part in one’s own words. Plagiarism can, in some cases, be a subtle issue. Any questions or doubts about what constitutes plagiarism should be discussed with the faculty member.

E. Denying others access to information or material — It is a violation of academic integrity to deny others access to scholarly resources, or to deliberately impede the progress of another student or scholar. Examples of offenses of this type include: giving other students false or misleading information, making library material unavailable to others by stealing or defacing books or journals, or by deliberately misplacing or destroying reserve materials, or altering computer files that belong to another.

ALL NEW/INCOMING Rutgers-Camden students are required to take our online Academic Integrity Tutorial. For Summer and Fall 2017 new students, please visit sakai and look for “Incoming 2017 A.I.” to take the tutorial. Spring 2018 New/Incoming students will have access to a sakai site entitled “Incoming Spring 2018 A.I.”. A passing grade of 80 or above is required and you can take it as many times as necessary.
A university in a free society must be devoted to the pursuit of truth and knowledge through reason and open communication among its members. Its rules should be conceived for the purpose of furthering and protecting the rights of all members of the university community in achieving these ends.

All members of the Rutgers University community are expected to behave in an ethical and moral fashion, respecting the human dignity of all members of the community and resisting behavior that may cause danger or harm to others through violence, theft, or bigotry. All members of the Rutgers University community are expected to adhere to the civil and criminal laws of the local community, state, and nation, and to regulations promulgated by the university. All members of the Rutgers University community are expected to observe established standards of scholarship and academic freedom by respecting the intellectual property of others and by honoring the right of all students to pursue their education in an environment free from harassment and intimidation. https://deanofstudents.camden.rutgers.edu/student_conduct

FERPA

(Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law that gives students in higher education various rights with respect to their educational records. Rights afforded to you under FERPA include the right to inspect and review your educational records, the right to request amendment of records you believe are inaccurate or misleading, and the right to prevent disclosure of information from your educational records without your prior consent, subject to some specific exceptions. The Office of Compliance, Student Policy, Research and Assessment publishes an annual notice about your rights under FERPA. You can access a copy of the most recent notice at compliance.rutgers.edu/ferpa/official-notice. FERPA permits disclosure of “directory information” such as name, phone number, address, and email address without your prior consent unless you specifically request that it be kept confidential. For more information regarding directory information, view the notice at compliance.rutgers.edu/ferpa/confidentiality.

If you have questions about your rights under FERPA, you may contact the Dean of Students Office. Visit studentaffairs.camden.rutgers.edu for more info.

Parking Permit Information:
All student parking permits are in effect from September 1 to August 31. In order for students to use any campus parking facility, they must purchase and obtain a valid parking permit.

Yearly permits and citation payments can be made online with a credit card. Daily and Yearly Permits may be purchased in person at the Parking Department using cash, check, or RU Express (no credit cards). The hours of the Parking Department are 8:30 am - 12:30 pm and 1:30 pm - 4:00 pm. See parking.camden.rutgers.edu for more information.

You may register as many additional vehicles by going to http://go.rutgers.edu/parking.

Once your vehicle is registered and payment is made, you will be able to:

Park on campus in the designated student parking lots. Rutgers utilizes license plate recognition technology that captures and reads a vehicle license plate to confirm that the vehicle is registered and has permission to park on campus. You will not receive a physical hangtag or decal. Vehicle license plates must be unobstructed, affixed to the bumper, and displayed in view from the driving aisle of a parking space.

Residents will also be issued a swipe access card to operate the gate arm at the Camden County Deck.

For non-permit holders who need parking on an infrequent basis, a Student One Day Hangtag may be bought for $5 (tax included) in advance or on the day needed at the Parking Office or at the Campus Center Impact Booth (not from Police Dispatch) during normal hours of operation.

Parking Map

To see where campus parking lots are located, please see the map on page 17 of this booklet. For further parking information and to view the map online, see parking.camden.rutgers.edu/student.

Acceptable Use Policy
For Computing and Information Technology Resources

It is the policy of Rutgers University to maintain access for its community to local, national, and international sources of information and to provide an atmosphere that encourages the free exchange of ideas and sharing of information. Access to this environment and the university’s information technology resources is a privilege and must be treated with the highest standard of ethics.

The university expects all members of the community to use computing and information technology resources in a responsible manner; respecting the public trust through which these resources have been provided, the rights and privacy of others, the integrity of facilities and controls, and all pertinent laws and university policies and standards.

This policy outlines the standards for acceptable use of university computing and information technology resources which include, but are not limited to, equipment, software, networks, data, and telephones whether owned, leased, or otherwise provided by Rutgers University.

This policy applies to all users of Rutgers computing and information technology resources including faculty, staff, students, guests, external individuals or organizations, and individuals accessing external network services, such as the Internet via university facilities. Preserving the access to information resources is a community effort that requires each member to act responsibly and guard against abuses. Therefore, both the community as a whole and each individual user have an obligation to abide by the following standards of acceptable and ethical use:

- Use only those computing and information technology resources for which you have authorization.
- Use computing and information technology resources only for their intended purpose.
- Protect the access and integrity of computing and information technology resources.
- Abide by applicable laws and university policies and respect the copyrights and intellectual property rights of others, including the legal use of copyrighted software.
- Respect the privacy and personal rights of others.

You must submit a term bill, even if your balance is zero. Sign and return your Attendance Confirmation form as you would a term bill. You can also submit your attendance confirmation online.
To apply for federal, state, and Rutgers University financial assistance, file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the renewal application online for faster and efficient processing of your application. Application for low-interest student loans and work study employment are made by completing the FAFSA. Most graduate students are eligible for some type of federal student assistance, usually in the form of a student loan. The amount of assistance is determined by course load and estimating the total cost of attendance. Listed below are the steps to apply for financial aid from Rutgers.

Step 1: Apply for admission to the graduate program
Prospective students who apply for financial aid should also apply for admission to Rutgers–Camden. You should not wait for formal acceptance to Rutgers to apply for financial aid; apply early for both financial aid and admission.

Step 2: File an FAFSA
If applying to the Fall 2018-Spring 2019 terms, please complete the following:
- Complete and submit the FAFSA online at fafsa.ed.gov.
- Use Federal School Code 002629 to submit a 2018-2019 FAFSA. You will need a copy of your 2017 tax forms.

When filing the FAFSA online (the recommended way), you will receive the Student Aid Report (SAR) from the U.S. Department of Education. The SAR is a summary of the information you reported on the FAFSA. Review the SAR to make sure the information you reported is accurate. If you need to make corrections, please do so at fafsa.ed.gov and log in with your FSA ID. Keep the SAR for your records.

Step 3: Complete Remaining Financial Aid Component
If a Federal Direct Stafford Loan (subsidized or unsubsidized) has been offered to you as part of your aid package, and you are accepting all or part of the loan, you are required to complete and sign a master promissory note.

If you have any questions, please contact the Rutgers–Camden Office of Financial Aid at 856-225-6039. Additional information regarding financial aid is available at financialaid.rutgers.edu.

Scholarship Information
Please note that limited funds are available from scholarships, fellowships, assistantships, and grants. Please contact your graduate program director in your proposed major for additional information. Scholarships for the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences may be found online here: https://graduateschool.camden.rutgers.edu/current-students/scholarships-assistantships/

You may also want to consider independently researching graduate scholarships online by taking advantage of free online scholarship searches, such as fastweb.com. Fastweb.com is the nation's largest source of local, national, and college-specific scholarships.
